

A World of Imagination for the Entire Family

Fascinating encounters

In addition to the top-class collections of works of German Expressionism, the museum also offers visitors an exciting journey into the realms of imagination. The spectrum of Buchheim's passion for collecting ranges from a vast number of colorful paperweights to Buchheim's »Buffi Circus« and carousel figures through to works by self-taught artists. And Lothar-Günther Buchheim's PiPaPop posters caused quite a sensation in the 1960s.

Cultural excursion to Lake Starnberg

A visit to the Buchheim Museum is a rewarding experience, any time of the year. Whether in combination with a hike, a swim or a day of skiing: the Buchheim Museum is always an attractive option. And during the summer season, museum-goers can also travel to the Buchheim Museum with the Museum Ship »Phantasie«.

Expedition to world cultures

Cultural diversity and surprising discoveries await visitors in the collections of non-European art and European folk art. The collections are part of an exciting interaction with works by German Expressionists and creations by »naïve« and self-taught artists.

Unity in diversity

Unusually diverse, top-class, highly original and unique in their mixture: the collections of the painter, publisher, novelist (»Das Boot«) and art book author, Lothar-Günther Buchheim (1918 – 2007). Classic modern artists like Picasso, Chagall, Braque and the German Expressionists, in particular the painters of the artist group »Brücke« (1905 – 1913), but also Lovis Corinth, Max Beckmann, Oskar Kokoschka, Otto Dix and many others fascinated Buchheim just as much as carousel figures and fairground attractions, paperweights, curiosities from the workshops of amateur and »naïve« artists, as well as the art and handicrafts from Africa, Asia, the South Seas and South America.

A lakeside treasure trove in a glorious natural setting

Located directly on the banks of Lake Starnberg in a sprawling stretch of parkland, the museum, designed by Günter Behnisch, architect of the 1972 Munich Olympics, features 3500 square meters of exhibition space. The twelve-meter deck that extends over the lake provides visitors with a stunning view that extends to the Alps. The perfect excursion destination for art lovers and the entire family.

The »Grüne Galerie/Green Gallery« – Buchheim's private museum

In an old villa in Feldafing, Lothar-Günther Buchheim set up an incomparably charming private museum that can only be visited during a tour. (Telephone +49 81 58/99 70 0)

A fresh look at Expressionism & Modern Art

The paintings and works-on-paper of the »Brücke« painters Ernst Ludwig Kirchner, Erich Heckel, Karl Schmidt-Rottluff, Max Pechstein, Emil Nolde and Otto Mueller are exhibited in changing presentations. Special exhibitions shed light on new work complexes of classic modern art.

Modern Art in Germany

Visitors are provided with an impressive overview of »Brücke« art, which signals the start of modern art in Germany. Commonalities and distinctive differences among the individual artists are also highlighted, as is the inter-relation between the watercolors, drawings, prints and paintings.
